THE NEWS.

The news today is of a more interesting character than for some time past, and it looks as though the Army of the Potomac had fairly inaugurated the spring campaign. If, as appears, Kilpatrick is menacing Richmond with any formidable force of cavalry, Lee will be obliged to turn his attention in that direction, but no sooner will he do that than Sedgwick will be upon him in the rear. The latest news by our morning dispatches is that Madison and Spotsylvania Court House are both in our possession, two good points from which to harass Lee should he come out from his entrenchments to protect the Rebel Capitol. Hampton's Legion is reported badly whipped and himself taken prisoner.

There are fears at Memphis that the retreat of Gen. Smith and Grierson will seriously affect the success of Gen. Sherman's movement, if not cause him to abandon it altogether.

The Prussians were still pushing offensive operations, and have not as yet heard of any armistice.

Gold is quoted at 50 1/2.

STATE NEWS.

The journeymen shoemakers of Madison have been on a strike for the past week.

The 11th regiment had been ordered to report immediately at New Orleans, as a Texas letter of February 6th to the Madison Journal says, preparatory to coming home on a 30 day furlough. They are expected at Madison in a few days.

The 35th regiment is now full to the maximum.

The Seventh Ward of Milwaukee is represented to be out of the draft, having made up its quota by volunteering.

H. L. Page of Milwaukee has sold his property in that city and soon removes to New Orleans, which he proposes to make his future place of residence.

Fred Douglass is to speak in Milwaukee on Tuesday evening of next week.

Mr. William Wheeler is erecting a new steam saw mill in Oshkosh.

The Home League says that the work of making maple sugar has commenced in that vicinity.

There is an effort being made, probably instigated by Wall Street brokers, to compel National Banks in New York, to redeem their currency in New York, at a discount. If it succeeds, it destroys the great leading object for which the law was passed. To get a universal currency, one that should be exchangeable for its par value in every town and city of the United States, was to be the predominant feature in the law. Without that, it is no better than State banks, based upon stock security. If one-fourth per cent. discount is to be imposed, it reduces the system to the same principle that would exact 5 or 10 per cent. discount. A national currency that is inconvertible in the city of New York is a queer contradiction in terms. If the merchant who starts from Janesville with the bills of the first National Bank in his pocket is obliged when he arrives in the city of New York to exchange them at a discount, wherein is the system any improvement on the old one? Not a particle.

This attempt to lay the whole country under tribute to Wall Street should be wiped in the bud. It is a piece of injustice to the country that must not be allowed.

THE WISCONSIN RIVER.

The Wisconsin lumbermen will put in about eighty millions, all of which will be manufactured on that river, which will send no logs to market.

THE RESULTS.

These estimates are based upon the best sources of information to which it is possible to gain access. The findings show that on the streams emptying into the Mississippi, the total of logs put in this year will be about three hundred millions of feet, of which fully one third will be required for consumption in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

THE DANGER OF THREATENING A JUDGE.

John Woods, who was brought before the Court of Common Pleas in Cincinnati last week, to be sentenced for robbery, and the experiment of threatening the Judge.

The sentence of the Court was that he should be confined to the Penitentiary for the period of eight years.

The prisoner (with a defiant aspect), "Could you not have made it longer?"

He was directed then by the Sheriff to take his seat in the prisoner's bench, and as he did so he remarked: "G-d-d-n such a Judge!"

As he was leaving the room a few minutes after in charge of the officers, he swaggered his powerful limbs along, and cast a scowling look at the Judge, said, "I'll meet you, by G-d, at the end of the eight years!"

He was then directed to be brought back.

The Court remarked that the exhibition that he had made of himself required that the severest penalty of the law should be inflicted upon him. The sentence, therefore, announced had not been entered on the journal, and the Court would now sentence him to confinement in the Penitentiary for this period of fifteen years; and until he was removed to Columbus, he should be confined in the dungeon in the jail.

On this occasion he made no demonstration, and went quietly along with the officers.

William Crafts, the fugitive slave, who was in London, England, has attained a high scientific position, has made his fortune by invention, which has been patented, and appears with his wife in the best society. Dr. Johnson, a slave in Kentucky, only twelve years ago, has taken a degree at Edinburgh University, Scotland, and has become a regular physician somewhere in England.

Too Much Reward. In a tract distributed by the Mormon preachers, the following question and answer occurs: "What shall be the reward of those who have forsaken their wives for righteousness sake? A hundred fold of wives here, and wives everlasting hereafter!"

The 30th Regiment Full. The Madison Journal of yesterday learns that the 30th regiment is full and goes into camp to-day. That is quick work.

It will be seen, by these figures, that on the 1st of February last we had 7,461 men to raise. The enlistments since that time will very largely reduce this number. As soon as they can be ascertained, the credits up to March 1st will be made out and deducted. There will be a draft for whatever portion of our quota remains unfilled after deducting the credits to that time.

Instructions were also received by the Provost Marshal to prepare to make the draft in such districts as have not filled their quotas by the 1st of March, upon the 10th inst. No credits are to be deducted for enlistments after the 1st, but when the draft is made a number equal to the enlistments during the period from the 1st to the day of the draft in the several localities will be deducted from those drafted in such localities.

Every train that arrives here is thronged with recruits. Last evening brought in about one hundred men from Sheboygan county for the 30th Regiment; Col. F. A. Haskell. It is believed that the regiment is already full.—Madison Journal.

WISCONSIN LUMBERING.—According to the La Crosse Republican, which claims to have exercised a good deal of care in ascertaining the facts relative to the lumbering operations in the State, the following from that paper is the "situation":

THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI.

On the upper Mississippi, above St. Paul, the total quantity of logs that will be "put in" will vary much from forty millions of feet, of which about thirty millions will be "driven," but much of this will be manufactured at Minneapolis, St. Anthony's Falls, and St. Paul, and a considerable portion of it will be needed for home consumption, as very little or no lumber was manufactured at those places last year, on account of the low water and scarcity of logs.

THE ST. CROIX.

While the snow in many portions of the country, and especially in the northeastern part of Wisconsin, has, during the present winter, been of great depth, it has been scarce on the St. Croix and its tributaries, in consequence of which the quantity of logs is much less than was anticipated, and will not be far from fifty million of feet, of which fully one half will be manufactured at St. Croix.

THE CHIPPEWA.

The quantity of logs "put in" this winter will probably amount to eighty million of feet, of which about one half will reach the mills the coming spring, and be manufactured at Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Menomonie, Eau Gallie, Waubesa, and other places in the Valley of the Chippewa, from which no logs will be issued.

THE BLACK RIVER.

In the early part of the winter the extensive arrangements for lumbering indicated that an unusually large quantity of logs would be prepared; but instead of seventy or eighty millions as expected, the actual quantity "put in" will not exceed fifty five millions, of which about one half will come out in logs and lumber this year.

THE WISCONSIN RIVER.

The Wisconsin lumbermen will put in about eighty millions, all of which will be manufactured on that river, which will send no logs to market.

THE RESULTS.

These estimates are based upon the best sources of information to which it is possible to gain access. The findings show that on the streams emptying into the Mississippi, the total of logs put in this year will be about three hundred millions of feet, of which fully one third will be required for consumption in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

THE DANGER OF THREATENING A JUDGE.

On this occasion he made no demonstration, and went quietly along with the officers.

He weighed 1,800 pounds, and cost $103. T. M. Lynch, esq., was the purchaser, and a choice steak or roast from this fine beef may be had at his market on West Milwaukee street.

"Good morning, Mr. White."

"Oh, Mr. Black, good morning! How is your folks?"

"All well, thank you. How much wheat are you going to sow this spring?"

"Well, I've been thinking it would be a good year, with good prices, and I'd like to sow about 100 acres; but, you see, my oldest son has been in the war for two years, and my hired man has 'listed, and that other one I engaged is going to Idaho, so I can't get any one to help me but my little boy, who can't do much, and I think I won't try to get in but about 60 acres. How much will you get in?"

"Well, I haven't got no man or boy either, and I think I can get in about 120 acres of wheat, oats and barley."

"What! 120 acres all alone?"

"Yes, I can do that, easy."

"Well, if you do it well I would just like to know how you do it."

"Why, how much do you think I can get in in a day?"

"Well, I clog that you can't do any more than I can, and all I can sow and harrow in both ways is about five acres per day."

"Ha, ha! Now that is just the way my grandfather would talk. I don't know if you believe it or not, Mr. White, but I can put in fifteen acres per day, and it better than you will do the fire."

"Well, Mr. Black, I don't want to dispute you, but if you will make me believe that, I'll give you my best cow."

"Well, I reckon what I have done for two years can be done again. Two years ago I bought a Richardson drill with eleven teeth, and I can put in one acre an hour very easy, and if I am in a hurry, more than that."

"If that is so, I must have a drill now, but I have heard that Richardson's did not make his drills as good as they should be."

"Well, I don't think they were made last year any better than they ought to be, but this year they are made the best of any drills I see; then they are very much improved over the old ones. He has got the teeth so they roll up very easy, and then he has got the nearest plan for drawing you ever saw, there is no even at all. I think Richardson must have taken a partner lately, or he never could have got up so good a machine."

"Well, I guess when I get ready to sow, I'll go down and get one and try it."

"Well, I guess if you wait till you get ready to sow before you go down after it, that you will come home without it."

"Why, how so?"

"Because they will all be gone."

"All be gone? Why, some one told me he was making three hundred."

"So he is; but he had sold more than half of them a month ago."

"Well, if that is so I'll hurry down there and get one. Good by."

KILPATRICK MENACING RICHMOND

Madison C. H. in our Possession!

Longstreet making for Richmond!

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Special to Tribune.—From reports from headquarters under date of March 1st, it would seem that Gen. Sedgwick was sent to the extreme left of the enemy, to engage his attention and divert his vigilance from the Rapidan force. Kilpatrick seizing advantage of this, crosses the river and proceeds to make a rapid detour to the Southwest of the enemy's main position around Orange Court House and Gordonsville, while Gordon swings rapidly around the extreme right of Sedgwick via Madison Court House and Stannardsville. Our latest information from Kilpatrick was up to 8 o'clock A. M. yesterday, when he was reported to be at Spotsylvania, and on the trail of Custar. We have positive knowledge that his long lines of cavalry dashed rapidly through Madison C. H. before daylight yesterday morning. It is reasonably supposed by a Tribune Special who left the Court House at 1 o'clock, for a heavy cannonading was heard at that hour in the direction of Orange C. H. It continued up to dark. Gray sends news from Madison C. H., dated Monday noon, that Sedgwick's corps marched at sunrise Saturday with four days rations, bivouacked at night 7 miles beyond Culpepper, and reached Russell's Ford on Robinson River Sunday forenoon, where most of the corps bivouacked, and Sedgwick established his headquarters. Talbot's brigade pushed on to Madison C. H. with cavalry under Capt. Ladin. The 1st division of the 3d corps came up to the support of the 6th on Sunday night. At 1 o'clock on Monday morning Custar's Cavalry with Horse Artillery marched out of the town to the Rapidan, which was crossed near Barnett's Ford.

The latest news from the front indicates a battle this morning at Stannardsville, between Custar's Cavalry and rebel Infantry. Rumors persistently place Kilpatrick at about 25 miles from Richmond, and give us Spotsylvania C. H. and Madison C. H., and as a drawback swell the waters of the Rapidan six feet over the level of yesterday.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Special to the Times.—Latest news from the Army of the Potomac is to 8 o'clock this A. M. Heavy musketry firing was heard early this morning off to the extreme right, in the direction of Stannardsville, where it was supposed that Custar's cavalry were engaging the rebels. Madison Court House, as well as Spotsylvania Court House are in our possession. There is an evident disposition on the part of Lee to avoid a battle, by keeping behind his entrenchments. Kilpatrick has been heard from. The report is favorable. Lee's communications no longer remain unbroken. It was reported to-day at Culpepper, that Hampton's legion had been badly whipped by Kilpatrick with loss of several hundred prisoners, Hampton himself among the number.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—World's Special. Gen. Kilpatrick, with a large force of cavalry and mounted infantry started three days since for Richmond, in the hope of capturing that city by a coup de main, or compel Lee to leave his entrenchments at Mine Run and march to its defense. The rapid retreat of Longstreet on Richmond is explained by this movement. It is rumored that Kilpatrick will have the co-operation of a large force advancing up the Peninsula.

THE DANISH WAR.

New York, Feb. 20.—The news from St. Thomas to the effect that the Danish gunboat Lyda and the new Swedish steamer Geffe are preparing to visit New York, created some alarm among the German and other foreign merchants in this city. It is thought that the object of their coming hither may be to seize Russian, Austrian, Hamburg, and Mecklenburg vessels sailing from this and other Atlantic ports. It is said that the Hamburg steamer Lyda is to be transferred to British owners as a safe-guard against this contemplated action of the Danish navy-officer. The daily papers publish a very long list of the vessels now in this harbor liable to capture by the Danes.

THE FLORIDA AT LARGE.

New York, March 1.—Liverpool advices say that the Confederate cruiser Florida, under the command of Capt. M. K. Taylor, had escaped from Brest, in the midst of a dense fog, on a cruise. We understand that the United States war steamer Kearsage, on being apprised of the Florida's sailing, stood out to sea the same evening, so that there is every possibility of a fight between the two vessels—that is should they get foul of each other.

The shipping interest are excited over this fresh danger to richly freighted vessels now in the Atlantic.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, March 1, 1864.—A dispatch received by Gen. Risk, yesterday, brings news that Capt. John of the 3d M. S. M. cavalry on Sunday last intercepted, near Poplar Bluff, Butler county, a rebel train, and destroyed a large quantity of powder, shot, lead, caps, bullets, &c., besides shot men on board, and the carpenter is a Massachusetts man. She has completely stopped American commerce in the East; our vessels are lying up in all ports, and some are being sold very cheap.

Letter from the 33d Regiment.

Since I last wrote you we have moved camp from where we were, to within about three miles of Big Black River. A week ago to-day the regiment left here on an expedition out to Jackson, and perhaps farther. My leg is not sound enough to stand marching yet, so I was left with five others, who were not well enough to go. The

When the soldier had gone, the clerk informed his employer that the person was female in soldier's apparel. She had been in the army three years, serving in the commissary department, along side of a man whom she loved. Her lover was duly enlisted soldier, and she acted only as a helper. The former had served out his time, and come home, but was going back again, and she was about to accompany him.

Profit and Loss.

As rather an unscrupulous fellow named Ben was coming down one morning, he met Tom and stopped him.

"I say, Tom," said he, "here's a pretty counterfeit three. If you pass it, I'll divide."

"I'll see the plaster," said Tom; and after examining it carefully, put it in his vest pocket, remarking: "It is an equal division—a dollar and a half apiece."

"Yes," said Ben.

"All right," said Tom.

A few minutes afterwards, he quietly stepped into the store of his friend Ben, and purchased a keg of oysters for a dollar and a half, laying down the three dollar bill for them. The clerk looked at the bill rather doubtfully; when his suspicions were immediately calmed by Tom, who said:

"There is no use in looking for it, I received the note from Ben himself not ten minutes ago."

Of course the clerk, with this assurance, forked over the dollar and a half in change; with this deposit and a can of oysters, Tom left. Shortly afterward, he met Ben, who asked him if he had passed the note.

"Oh, yes," said Tom; at the same time passing over the dollar and a half to Ben.

That evening when Ben made up his cash account, he was surprised to find the same old counterfeit three in the drawer. Turning to his clerk, he asked:

"Where did you get this cursed note? didn't you know it was counterfeit?"

"Why, said the clerk, Tom gave it to me and I suspected it was fishy, but he said he had just received it from you, and I took it."

The whole thing had penetrated the wool of Ben. With a peculiar grin, he muttered "Sold!" and charged the can of oysters to profit and loss account.

ALL RIGHT IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The copperheads have held the legislature of Pennsylvania at a dead-lock for two months for nothing. The election of a new republican Senator in the district previously represented by Andrew White, now detained in a prison at Richmond, gives that party a majority of one in the Senate, and will enable that body to organize. The rebels did what they could to aid the democrats, but their designs have been baffled. The new Senator's majority is about 1,200.
